

Pick three tasks and complete them on the book you are reading at the moment.

Discuss why you feel the author wrote the book you're reading – what was their inspiration/motivation?	Predict how you think the book you are currently reading will end.	Design an alternative book cover for the book you are reading.	Write a review of your book in 10 words.	Discuss the main characters within your book with someone.
Discuss a book that had a disappointing ending.	Who is your favourite character and why?	What is your favourite line from a book?	If you wrote a book, what would it be about?	Discuss what the world would be like without books.
In a small group, discuss your favourite storyline from a book.	Write a 100 word review of the last book you read.	Plan an activity for a yr 7 library lesson.	How could you encourage yourself to read more? What would help? Devise a plan.	Select a book at random from the library and read it for 10 minutes.
Discuss the best books you have ever read.	Write an alternative ending to your chosen book.	If this book was non fiction, what would be the main topics?	Write a newspaper article including a headline inspired by an event from the book you are reading.	Discuss how effective you deed the opening of the book you're reading is.
Rewrite the opening of a book you are reading.	Discuss the best ending of a book or story you have ever read.	Timeline: sequence the events in a chapter.	Identify 5-10 interesting adjectives in a chapter you are reading.	Books are uniquely portable magic.
